

Systemic Coaching with Constellations: Introductory One-day Workshop

13 February, 2018
London

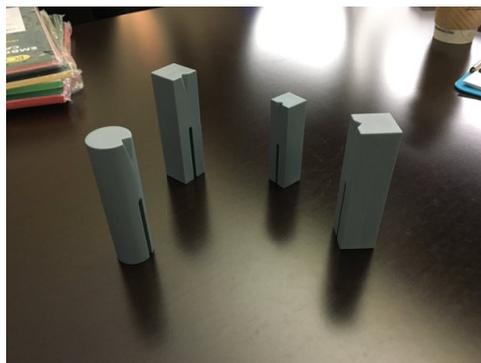

Purpose

The purpose of this one-day workshop is to introduce you experientially to some of the essential practices and methods of Systemic Coaching & Constellations, and strengthen your capacity to help others through change.

Systemic Coaching and Constellations has emerged over the last fifteen years as a powerful, awareness-based "whole self/whole systems" way of seeing and transforming challenges in our personal and organisational lives. By creating maps of the whole system, constellations enable the invisible dynamics of even seemingly intractable situations to be revealed - and often resolved - quickly and effectively.

Benefits

- Understand the nature of your challenge(s) through a systemic lens and "overview"
- Resource yourself as a change agent, coach or leader of change with simple constellating practices, and discover new possibilities for generative action
- Discover what steers you 'off-track' as a helper and align your work with what supports and nourishes your well-being.
- Explore mapping systems in different ways, including embodied and desktop mapping in 1-1 settings
- Find the most empowering place in relationship to your clients and their systems as part of a peer supervision process, and the ease, strength and relaxation this typically provides

Who is it For?

The workshop is for coaches and change agents (external or internal), professional helpers, and leaders or managers in all sectors who are coaching or supporting others through transformation and change. You will find it especially valuable if you are feeling any of the following:

- Under-resourced by the challenges you're trying to navigate, or help other's navigate
- Stuck and stressed by seemingly intractable, complex problems with clients or particular systems and not knowing where the real problems and solutions lie
- Keen to find a way of coaching and helping others which draws more on your whole self (especially your presence, embodiment and intuition) as well as the whole systems of which you are a part.

"I wouldn't have believed just how powerful and effective working in this way could be unless I had experienced it for myself. I arrived with curiosity and left with even more. Thoroughly recommended."

Jane Mudd, Executive Coach, Leadership Consultant and Director, The Mudd Partnership.

"Incredibly helpful...it's a deeply insightful and revealing process, which you handle with great skill and sensitivity"

Hugh Evans, Director of Executive Education, Henley Business School

"Thank you for a wonderful, stellar day which I will never forget! I wish I had the vocabulary to explain the truly life changing experience you offer. Suddenly, the gears change...there is space and time to create, construct & examine. You can see how to convert a remote possibility to a reality."

Linda Mclean, Greater Glasgow and Clyde Health Board, NHS
